

Cancer Research Consortium of West Michigan

Committed to Community Cancer Research & Education

A powerful team working for you!

Who is Cancer Research Consortium of West Michigan (CRCWM)?

- We are a group of West Michigan hospitals, health care systems, physicians and researchers working together to provide cancer education and access to new and unique cancer clinical trials.
- Funded by a National Cancer Institute Grant since 1983.
- Offering the highest level of clinical trials to the men, women and children in West Michigan.
- 1 of only 34 programs awarded a grant by the National Cancer Institute (NCI) in 2014 as a member of the National Cancer Institute Community Oncology Program (NCORP).

What does this mean for you?

- Cancer clinical trials close to home.
- Access to new and unique research.
- Cutting edge cancer treatments from clinical trial research.
